Summary: A normal teen and his 2 normal siblings were supposed to enjoy a time at the Kamen Rider convention until an unknown man that claims to be the White Wizard sends them to the world of RWBY. Will the 3 siblings bring hope to the world or will they fall and let more people fall into despair. Rated T for no apparent reason.

1. Chapter 1

Terraforming Snowman here and I'm here to tell you guys I'm very sorry I haven't updated on my stories, I have lost inspiration and or lost some of ideas for them no worries I'm still going to do all the stories that's until I get all my inspiration back. So now I'm doing a Kamen Rider fic. If you don't know what Kamen Rider is, basically it's like power rangers but there's death (depending which Kamen rider you watch) and blood and it revolves around one person (or more than one depending on which one you watch.)

Now I recommend since this story is going to be an xover of Kamen Rider Wizard and RWBY to watch Kamen Rider Wizard so you can get some things that I put in this story.

Let's end this AN and Sa, showtime da.

Disclaimer: it would be a dream to own both franchise...sadly it's going to stay like that.

XXXXX

A teen no older than 17 was walking besides 2 people a women no older than 20 and a man no older than 25. They were walking towards a large building with a very large group of people walking in and out of.

"Again, why and how did you manage to convince us to join you in the Kamen Rider convention?" That women asked.

"Simple, I blackmailed you." The 17 year old teen said.

"Oh yea, fucking hate you now." The woman said.

"Love yah too sis." The teen chuckled.

"I have a question, why the hell do we have stupid looking belts on?" The man asked.

"They're not stupid my dear brother, they're what made the characters I favor to this day." The teen said with fake hurt.

"What are the called again?" The man asked.

"Me and Lily have the WizarDriver, you have the Beast Driver." The teen explained.

"English please." The teens brother said.

"That was english." The teen deepened

"Yeah, I'm not into these nerdy things like you are." The man said.

"And. I got you out of search duty back at the Toyota Plant didn't I?" The teen questioned.

"Yeah you did." The man muttered.

"Now, can we stop complaining, my ring set isn't complete, I still need the other rings and I heard that someone is selling the Dragon and Infinity rings with the Drago Timer and if I remember correctly that same person has the Hyper Ring for Beast." The teen said excitedly.

"How much?" The man asked.

The teen turned away in embarrassment and pulled out a wallet with the Kamen Rider Accel symbol. The teens 2 siblings look at how large the wallet was and sweat dropped at the sight.

"A lot, I saw around the hundreds maybe less if I just buy the rings." The teen said with a smile.

"How much do you even have?" The women now named Lily asked.

"Better question is, how the hell did you even hold it all in that wallet." The man questioned.

"About a good thousand. And that Diego is a trade secret." The teen said.

Lily had a tick mark and nearly smacked the teen if it wasn't for the man now named Diego holding her back with all of his strength.

"I told you that money was supposed to go to college!" Lily angrily said.

"And I told you I signed up for a lot of scholarships and a good amount accepted me." The teen countered.

Lily gave a defeated sigh and gave a quick glare.

"You didn't tell me that they accepted you." Lily said.

"Did I? Huh, I guess it didn't cross my mind." The teen said.

"Let's hurry up, the faster we get you the rings the better." Diego said.

The teen nodded and rushed towards a booth that he knew all too well after seeing pictures from a few of his buddies that went here more than he can count. The teen looked at all the rings that the booth held and set his eyes on the ones in the display case.

"Hey sir, how much are the ones in the display case?" The teen asked.

"That child is not up for sale, you have to win it." An old man said.

"How do I win them?" The teen asked.

"Follow me, and your friends over there can follow." He said.

The teen looked at his siblings who shrugged and followed suit. The old man took them to a strange looking room with a few strange looking symbols that covered both the walls and floor even the roof was covered.

"Where the hell are we?" The teen asked.

The old man smirked and motioned the 3 siblings to stand on the largest symbol the covered most of the floor.

"The only way to win those rings is to survive another dimension." The old man laughed evilly.

"Hah, good one, can you just tell me how to...Why is there a wormhole?!" The teen asked frightened by the large swirling hole that appeared before them.

"I am known as the White Wizard, don't worry, I'm not the evil one that the show portrays me as." The old man said while he placed a ring with hand on his finger and placed it near his waist.

DRIVER ON

"Whaa! How can that be, this isn't real is it!? And how the fuck can you say you're not evil when you just laughed evilly." The teen shouted out his question.

"Force of habit." The old man shrugged.

"Now then, let's talk about important matters. As you can see here, this wormhole is a portal to another dimension, it's infested with this creatures called Grimm and now Phantoms, this world is well known to this world, I don't have enough time to go into details but you young one will know what this planet is and that planet will need your help." The old man said while looking at the vortex.

"That's cool and all but you can't just send us to some unknown place without our consent." Diego said a bit ticked off by the old man.

"Didn't you hear me, that planet needs your help or else it will fall into despair." The old man said evenly.

"I don't care if the damn world needs our blood, we have no knowledge of that place. What happens if we get I don't know captured by the locals or worse." Diego said a bit agitated.

"Don't worry, one of you have at least some knowledge of the this world you're going. Good luck." And with that the man flip a switch on the right side of the belt and placed another ring on his right finger and hovered it over the belt.

PUSH-NOW (I was going to use Explosion but that would make a bad first impression for the new White Wizard)

The 3 siblings felt a force push them into the wormhole and were engulfed by the vortex.

"Good luck, Kamen Riders." The old man said while walking out of the room.

With the 3 siblings

The teen felt wind and grass brush his face and quickly opened his eyes. He looked around and noticed that he's not in a large urban city but in an emerald green forest.

"Where the hell am I?" The teen asked to no one.

He heard a groan and saw his sister getting up and rubbing her head and gave a quick yawn.

"Damn, that was a crazy dream." Lily said.

"That wasn't a dream." The teen said to his sister.

Lily raised a brow and looked around her surrounding area and gaped when she took notice that she wasn't in a city but a large forest.

"Where are we?" Lily asked.

"I have no clue, the most obvious answer would be a forest but question is which forest are we in." The teen mused.

"Wait, where's Diego?" Lily asked.

The teen dropped his musing and looked around until he saw a man dangling from a tree.

"A little help would be nice."

The teen would have laughed at the sight if the situation he was in didn't require for him to be serious. They got Diego off of the tree and they sat down on the ground wondering about how they got here or what forest they ended up in.

"So anyone got any ideas?" Diego asked.

"Well, the forests I've studied back at school didn't have any leaves that were emerald in color, either that old guy was telling the truth and actually sent us to another world or we're having those connecting lucid dreams." The teen said.

"Then let's test the last one out then." Diego then got up and got close to the teen and pinched his arm causing him to yelp in pain.

"Nope, looks like we're in a different world." Diego concluded.

"Looks like it, now what god forsaken world have we ended up in?" Lily asked.

The teen looked around until loud gunshots rang throughout the forest causing the 3 siblings to flinch.

"Where the hell did that come from?" The teen asked.

"I don't know, you tell us Ray." Lily said with a scared tone.

The teen now named Ray sighed and had a thought and looked at his waist and raised a brow and looked at his brothers and sisters waist. They too have something missing except him and Lily had what looked like buckles in a shape of a hand pointing to the right side and looked at his finger and saw the same ring the old man had that summoned the belt. Ray shook his head knowing that it might have been for show...or was it...He again shook his head and tried to get rid of the thought and went straight back to reality.

"It's gunshots coming from that direction, I think we should follow it." Ray suggested.

"You know, when there's gunshots people tend to stay away from them not go towards them." Diego pointed out.

"He's right, what if they're cannibals hunting humans for food or worse, there's people that got stuck here and have to defend themselves against worms." She said that last part with disgust.

Ray and Diego looked at her as if she grew another head. Lily saw the looks and gave a sharp glare and huffed.

"It could be true." She said.

"Yeah, none of those makes any sense, it just sounds like you pulled them out of a terrible horror movie." Ray then dodged a punch that was directed towards his head.

"Cannibals do exist and giant worms too." Lily huffed.

"Yeah, and Santa Claus. Look, we need to get serious here, the only option we have is to follow those gunshots and prey to whatever this world's god is that they're not hostile." Diego said.

Lily sighed and gave a nod of acknowledgement and stood up. Ray motioned them to follow and they started to jog through the forest.

A few hours later they stopped jogging and took a quick rest near a broken down ruin with pedestals that held chess pieces. Ray after taking a much needed rest looked at the chess pieces and had a thoughtful look.

"Strange, it feels like I've seen this somewhere before, but where." Ray muttered.

"Hey, what are you mumbling about?" Diego asked.

"I was asking myself where I've seen this before, it feels like have but I have no clue where." Ray shrugged and placed the white knight chess piece back on the pedestal and sat down again after feeling the burning sensation from his legs.

"I'm way out of shape, and hour of running took a lot out of me." Ray gave a tired sigh and looked at the forest until he saw a silhouette coming towards him with another one following suit.

Ray's mouth gaped when a blond haired girl and a raven haired girl rushed out of the forest making their way towards the chess pieces.

'_That can't be can it! They're not Yang and Blake from RWBY are they?_' Ray thought.

He looked at his brother and sister who raised a brow towards him causing him to mouth out "I know where we are now" at them. Ray got back up and was about to greet them when the blond haired girl that Ray now can tell was Yang suggested for her and Blake to take a cute little pony until they heard a loud scream causing Ray to look up and saw a red and black haired girl falling from the sky.

"Isn't that your sister?" Blake asked.

When she was falling a blond man was tossed at her from somewhere that Ray couldn't tell where and they both hit a tree. Diego and Lily were questioning what the hell was going on and looked at Ray who held a look of excitement and looked at his 2 older siblings.

Ray calmly let everything happened as if he knew what was going to happen. Diego stepped back when he saw a orange haired girl riding a large bear and killing it in the process and he swore he heard her say it broke.

"The hell did we stumble upon." Diego said confused at the situation.

"We stumbled upon every weeb's dream." Ray said with excitement evident in his voice.

"But you aren't a weeb." Lily sweat dropped.

Ray shrugged and that the teams were forming and he shrugged and motioned his brother and sister to follow him. What surprised him was that there were extra chess pieces and again shrugged and picked one up and toss the remaining 2 to Diego and Lily. The 2 older siblings shrugged and pocketed the chess pieces and looked at the teens who stared at them in confusion.

"Who are you 3?" The white haired girl that Ray could tell was Weiss asked.

"I'm Ray nice to meet you." Ray did a quick bow and stepped behind both Lily and Diego.

"I'm his older brother Diego." Diego said awkwardly.

"And I'm his older sister, Lily, nice to meet you." Lily said a bit more upbeat than Diego.

Ray looked around and noticed something was off. There was him and the others, then he turned and noticed a giant scorpion tower over him causing him to gap. He looked at the others and saw them having a nice chat about random things and tried to form words but only coming out it stutters and or the others aren't paying any attention towards him.

"Um, guys." Ray tried to call out to them .

But to no avail, they weren't listening causing a tick mark to form on Ray causing him to grunt in frustration.

"Oi, assholes. There's a fucking large ass scorpion right behind me." Ray yelled.

This caused the group to look towards him and then switch their gaze towards the giant scorpion causing them to gap. They now wondered how they didn't see a large scorpion behind them until now.

"Finally! Now, I should really run." Ray said before he narrowly dodge a claw strike from the oversized scorpion.

"Don't worry I got this." The red and black haired girl said before charging at the large scorpion.

She swung her oversized scythe at the scorpion but only bounced off of the armor not even scratching it. She then tried to rush it out of the way until a large bird aimed its wings towards her and fired its feathers. One of them manage to pin her red hood causing her to struggle out of it. Ray saw Yang trying to get to her sister.

Ray saw the giant scorpion ready its stinger. He looked at the hand ring and the hand buckle and got an idea. Ray hovered his right hand over the buckle and was surprised to hear a familiar chant.

DRIVE ON

Ray saw an all too recognizable belt form around his waist causing him to smile in glee. Lily saw this and raised a brow until she saw a strange looking belt that was around Ray's waist and knew that the belt wasn't there before.

"Now let see if this works?" Ray then grabbed a ring out of his pocket and placed it on his right hand.

He flip a switch on the right side of the belt and hovered his right hand over it and heard another enchantment from the belt.

DEFEND-PLEASE

Ray pointed his hand towards the red and black haired girl causing a red glyph to appear blocking the oncoming strike from the scorpion's stinger. Lily and Diego gaped at what they saw and looked towards Ray who smiled in glee until a white blur pass between them and froze the scorpion in place.

Ray noticed that the white haired girl was the one that did it and sighed in relief. He walked towards his brother and sister and gave them a huge smile causing both his siblings to raise a brow.

"Its real!" Ray said in glee.

"Are you talking about that belt, because when we got here it was gone and you found a way to get it back, how the hell did you manage to get it back and make it work?" Lily asked.

"Well, you know how I have the ring that has a hand on it?" Ray asked.

"Yeah, what about it?" Diego asked this time.

"Well, I hovered it over the buckle that also was the shape of a hand and the belt form and now I have my WizarDriver back and that means you guys have them too." Ray explained.

"How? Do I have that hand ring thing too?" Lily asked.

Ray nodded and saw Lily trying to locate it around her pockets and found it and placed the ring on. She hovered it round the hand buckle and hear it chant.

DRIVER ON-NOW

A belt formed around her waist causing Lily to gasp in shock and looked at it then back at Ray.

"How?" Lily asked.

"I have not clue but I don't question things like this." Ray looked at Diego and saw him quirk his eyebrow.

"How do I get my belt?" Diego asked until his belt formed.

DRIVER ON

"Nevermind." Diego shrugged and pulled out the rings for the Beast Driver.

Ray looked at the group of teens his age and noticed that they were heading towards them. He was then given a bone crushing hug by Yang causing him to grunt in pain.

"Thank you sooooo much for saving my sister." Yang said.

"Yang, I think he can't breath." The red and black haired girl pointed out.

Yang saw the blue face of Ray and let him go causing him to take in much air.

"No problem." Ray finally said after taking in much needed air.

The red and black haired girl got on top of a rock and looked at each of the teen and adults in the eyes.

"There's no point in staying here, we got our objective that means we can leave." She said.

"She's right, there's no point in dilly dallying, we got to move before the Deathstalker breaks out." The white haired girl said.

"Live to see another day, something I can agree on." Ray said.

"Run and live, I can follow that perfectly." The blond man said.

With a nod they all ran out of the area while Yang stood behind a bit with a smile.

Blake stopped beside her and asked. "Everything alright?"

"Yeah." Yang said.

A few minutes later the group manage to make it to a large destroyed castle with a bridge connecting to a mountain.

"Is that the exit?" Ray asked.

"It better be." Diego muttered.

"Can we go now, I have a bad feeling that giant ass scorpion broke out of its ice prison and is currently rushing towards us." Lily said with fear evident in her voice.

Once she said that the the 3 siblings and the soon to be teams JNPR and RWBY all looked and saw the Deathstalker rush out of the tree line and glared at the group.

"You had to jinx it." Ray complained.

"It's not my fault that son of a bitch is more stubborn than Diego." Lily said.

"I am not that stubborn." Diego said from the sidelines.

Ray rolled his eyes and looked up at the sky and his eyes widen to the size of dinner plates. Without words to say, he just pointed at the giant bird causing the group to look up and gave groans of annoyance.

"Everyone, clutch it to the bridge." Diego ordered.

Without a thought the hunters and riders rushed towards the bridge. The giant bird saw this and ram its entire body into the bridge causing it to collapse. Ray stopped before he can fall into the ravine and looked to see if everyone was ok and sighed in relief when they were all safe.

"Alright! I have had it with these mother fucking Grimm on this mother fucking forest! It's time to henshin and show them who truly is on top of the food chain." Ray said.

He grabbed a ring with a ring that was different from the others, instead of either being the hand or a dark yellow, it had a ruby. Ray flip the bracer showing what looked like a visor. He then flip a switch on the left side of the belt causing the belt to chant.

SHABADOOBIE TOUCH TO HENSHIN! SHABADOOBIE TOUCH TO HENSHIN! SHABADOOBIE TOUCH TO HENSHIN!

Ray smirked and hovered the ring over the buckle.

"Henshin!" He yelled causing any on lookers to stare at him and why the belt just talk.

FLAME-PLEASE

Hi-Hi, Hi-Hi-Hi

Ray raised his arm to his left and a red glyph appeared and slowly moved towards him. Lily looked closely at the glyph and gasp when fire erupted around Ray causing her to panic. Diego saw this and tried to calm Lily down until the fire disappeared showing Ray in red armor and the mask having a Ruby shape visor.

Ray looked himself over and with excitement jumped up.

"Ah yeah. I am Kamen Rider Wizard and I've been meaning to say this for a while." He raised that had the ring that gave him his armor and showed it to the scorpion.

"Sa, showtime da." Ray said.

"English mother fucker do you speak it." Diego yelled.

"Stop ruining my moment you Jack ass." Ray yelled back.

"Alright, you got the armor, how do we get ours?" Lily asked.

"Its easy, Lily, you saw how did correct? Just do the exact same thing with the other ring." Ray said causing Lily to flip the switch on her driver and heard the same chant that Ray's belt chanted before.

SHABADOOBIE TOUCH TO HENSHIN! SHABADOOBIE TOUCH TO HENSHIN! SHABADOOBIE TOUCH TO HENSHIN!

Lily hesitates to hover her hand over the belt but Ray rolled his eyes put the ring on for her and placed said hand over the buckle causing the belt to announce.

CHANGE-NOW **

A white yellow glyph appeared when she raised her hand in front of her causing her to gasp in surprise. When the glyph pass through she looked herself over and notice she was wearing a white cloak with yellow trims and a yellow visor.

"This is actually cool." Lily said amazed.

"Oi! You suppose to shout out henshin before you put on the armor." Ray said.

"Henshin? What is that suppose to mean?" Lily asked.

"Its Japanese for transform." Ray stated.

"Wouldn't it be better if you shout transform?" Lily asked.

"Hell nah." Ray plainly said.

"Yo, how the hell do I get my armor?" Diego asked confused and tried to mimick the motions both Ray and Lily did.

"You get the ring that's on your left hand and place it on the left side of the buckle and turn it like a key." Ray explained.

Dieg raised a brow but did as he was told and placed the ring on the left side of the belt and turn it.

SET, OPEN! L-I-O-N, LION.

A gold yellow glyph appeared and made it's way towards Diego. When to glyph pass by he was now wearing what looked like a lion armor with a black skin tight suit underneath.

"This is cool, what's this guy's catchphrase?" Diego asked.

"He has to and it depends on the time. During lunch time he says, sa, lunchtime da. Dinner time is sa, dinnertime da. When he's targeting a phantom he calls it main dish." Ray explained.

"This guy likes his food doesn't he?" Diego questioned.

"Yeah, at least you don't put mayonnaise on everything you eat and at least I don't crave for plain auger donuts...I hope." Ray looked at his 2 siblings who looked at him strangely.

"I don't like breaking this small moment but can those armor even hurt these things?" The blond man asked.

"Yes, I got this. Diego get the Falco ring and turn it on the right side of the belt. The Falco mantle gives you flight capabilities."

Doing so, he placed the Falco ring while on the right side of the belt.

FALCO ,GO: FA-FA-FA-FALCO

With that a mantle with a falcon head appeared over the armors right arm. Diego rolled his shoulders to get a good look at it and nodded.

"This is cool, can I fly with thing on." Ray nodded and saw him jump and float in the air.

"Sweet! Now I know your plans. Let me take the bird on." And with that he flew towards the bird and magically pulled out a sword and tried to slash it.

"That settles one problem, and next is the other." Ray looked at the giant scorpion and walked forward while placing a topaz colored ring on his left hand and scanned it over the hand author.

LAND-PLEASE

DODODO DODODON, DON DODODON

When the magic circle passed over Ray, he now wore yellow armor with a topaz shaped visor.

"Land style, this should get the job done...I hope." Ray muttered the last part.

He then charged at the scorpion but was stopped by his sister who gave him a stern look under the mask. Ray chuckled and rubbed the back of his head and nodded.

"Sorry, maybe if me and you combine kick strikes we can demolish this bastard, I wonder how Diego is going with his fight?" Ray heard a loud crash and saw Diego on the ground groaning in pain.

"That answers one question." Ray joked.

"Ok, those kids got the bird, we and I mean WE, will take out the scorpion with this kick strike.

"Alright, I think you have the ring for it." He then place another ring on his left hand.

"How do I access my kick strike?" Diego asked.

"Just think about it." Ray stated.

"If that helps I guess." Diego muttered.

KICK STRIKE, GO

Diego looked at his leg and saw it glow lightly and looked at Ray and Lily.

"Alright, my turn." Ray said while flipping the switch and scanning the ring on the hand author.

CHOINE, KICK STRIKE, SAIKO!

Rays leg was then surrounded by pebbles and looked at Lily who held the kick strike ring. She scanned it over her hand author.

YES: KICK STRIKE, UNDERSTAND.

Like Diego's foot, hers glowed a faint yellow. Ray smiled and nodded and the 3 siblings jumped up and aimed their kicks towards the giant scorpion. When their rider kicks made contact causing a large explosion to erupt.

"That's awesome." The blond man said in awe.

XXXXX

That ends it and Jebus, 14 pages long...I feel proud. This is my first time doing a Kamen Rider fic so feedback is nice, flames are to be burn, insults will just be tossed into the trashcan.

Have a great day.

2. Chapter 2

Ray felt many things in his life, nervousness, tiredness, laziness and boredom. Out of all of them boredom was one of them. His brother and sister looked at him and sigh knowing what is going on in his mind.

"How long does the ceremony take?" Diego asked.

"An hour or so, it's bullshit but hey I can give you the quick run down on the belts." Ray said.

"Why not, we're going to be here for quite a while." Lily agreed.

"Alright. Let's start with the WizarDriver, the only way to use them is to have a manifested phantom or in other words, a phantom that's been awoken. I think the White Wizard can explain better than I can." Ray shrugged.

"What about the Beast Driver?" Diego asked.

"Um, you can say there's 2 versions. The one in the actual show and the other in the movie Wizard in Magic Land." Ray said.

"Then explain the one in the show." Diego said.

"Alright, the one in the show can kill you if you don't get a constant amount of mana from other phantoms or ghouls." Ray nervously said.

"...Are you kidding me?" Diego asked.

"No. But the movie version gets rid of the constant need of mana, if you talk to Chimera I think he'll tell you." Ray shrugged.

"How the hell do I talk to it? Is there a way or something?" Diego panicked.

"Oi, I'm trying to sleep here, keep it down." A voice said in Diego's head.

"The fuck! Did you guys hear that?" Diego asked in panic.

"Hear what?" Lily asked.

"You guys didn't hear a fucking voice? It was loud enough for you guys to hear!" Diego said.

"Must be Chimera. Try talking to it." Ray suggested.

"Ok. Um, yo, Chimera thing, can you hear me?" Diego asked.

"You know, I should've told him to talk in his mind." Ray snickered.

"Yes I think that would've been appropriate for this kind of situation." A voice said causing Ray to yelp in shock.

Ray turned and saw a man with a black suit and green scarf. Next to him was a woman with blond hair and gave him a stern look.

"Oh hi there, Umâ€¦"

"Ozpin, headmaster of Beacon academy." The man now named Ozpin calmly said

"Hi, Um how much did you hear?" Ray asked.

"Only when you told him to talk to some creature called Chimera." Ozpin said.

"Well, can we just cut to the chase. I'm Ray, these are my siblings, Lily and Diego. We are not from this world." Ray bluntly said.

"Do you have proof?" Ozpin asked.

"Shouldn't the armor that appeared on me during that thing back at the forest proof enough?" Ray pointed out.

"Not really, there's another individual who can do the same with a belt." Ozpin said.

"Wait...who?" Ray asked in shock.

"The individual calls himself White Wizard, your sisters armor looks like his, just not as white." Ozpin said.

"...God dammit, should've known he lives here originally." Ray muttered.

"The White Wizard did inform me about 3 other wizards joining us, now then, what about that proof." Ozpin said.

"I got you." Ray said with a smirk.

He pulled out his wallet and showed Ozpin the money in it. Glynda looked in a raised a brow and look at Ray.

"Um, it's just 1000 lien." She said.

Ray looked at them shocked and looked through his wallet and notice

all of them changed.

"Ok, fuck that guy. We have pics, Lily, show them your adventures back on Earth." Ray declared.

"Why can't you?" Lily question.

"Because I have none that can help us." Ray half lied.

"Is it because you those pics don't you." Lily said.

Ray shook his head and mouthed out 'I have pics of them and I don't want them to know that I know what happens in the future'. Lily nodded in understanding and pulled out her phone.

Ozpin and Glynda raised a brow at the strange device.

"What is that?" Glynda asked.

"It's a smart phone. You can call and video chat with people, you can use it as a remote control for tv and play games on them." Ray explained.

"Is that suppose to be your proof?" Glynda asked.

"Yes and no, she will be showing pics of places that never existed." Ray said with a smirk.

He looked at Lily knowing what the pics would show...until Lily's face scrunched up in a frown causing him to drop his smirk.

"Is something wrong sis?" Ray asked.

"Um, the pictures we took are all altered, there's places I've never seen before." Lily said in confusion.

"What? I need to check my phone." Ray went through his phone and went through his entire gallery not showing all the pictures he had.

"That white bastard...I mean white wizard bastard, God that sounded racist for a quick second." Ray muttered.

"Your photos got altered too?" Lily asked.

"Some while the others are gone! They were my favorite ones too!" Ray said while anime tears pour out.

"Guys, good news, I'm not going to die, I have the belt that doesn't need mana." Diego said excitedly.

He looked at his young brother and young sister and saw their faces.

"Um, did I miss something?" Diego asked.

"I would ask to check your gallery but all the photos were altered." Ray sighed in sadness.

"Yeah right." Diego waved off and went through his phone.

His smile faltered and scrolled through his photos quickly. Diego slowly turned off his phone and looked at his young siblings and panicked.

"There's a pic of a person that I don't know...I'm scared, what the fuck is happening!" Diego said placing both hands on his head.

"Oi, I said I need peace and quiet, I will find a way to make you despair and kick you ass at the same time!" Chimera said in Diego's head.

"Can we all calm down for a second, there has to be a logical explanation for this bullshit." Ray said.

"There is young man." A voice said.

Ray recognised the voice and turned immediately towards the source and saw a man in white robes and armor with a yellow gem stone like mask.

"White Wizard you fuck. What did you do." Ray yelled.

"Language young man. Do you kiss your mother with that mouth." The White Wizard joked.

"This mouth will say more vulgar stuff if you don't start explaining yourself you bastard." Ray said.

"Fine, but what I'm about to tell you will shock the 3 of you." The White Wizard said while walking by Ray.

"In this world, the 3 of you actually exist, you have a life, a family and friends. I forgot to alter your memories to fit with this world but my old age made me forget." White Wizard explained.

"Wait, we have a family and friends here. I feel like this became a shitty fanfic all of a sudden." Ray said.

"The author isn't that creative believe me, and don't be surprised by who your friends with and who your family is that the damn author set up." White Wizard said. (Ok you wannabe Deadpool, stop breaking the fourth wall.)

"Phe. Back to what I was saying, Ozpin my old friend, can you show them their profiles and information about their family." White Wizard said.

With a nod Ozpin brought up a screen and showed the 3 siblings their profiles. Ray was shocked beyond belief, he lived in Remnant before but knew he lived on Earth. His mind couldn't take much of it causing him to rub his forehead.

"So, we lived here before but we have Earth memories, why is that?" Ray asked.

"You remember how Haruto became a wizard correct?" White Wizard asked.

"Yes...If my hypothesis is correct, a phantom kidnapped the 3 of us for the Sabbath but we manage to hold onto hope and after the Sabbath we had no memories about our old life but manage to get new ones in our new one because you sent us there." Ray guessed and looked at the White Wizard who nodded.

"Persistent young man. I see that you read the missing sign on your profile am I wrong?" WW asked (going to call him that for when he makes an appearance)

"Pretty much. Ugh, my brain can't take anymore of this." Ray groaned while rubbing his forehead.

"I know it does, but Ray, you must bear the title of Kamen Rider Wizard. I feel that the White Fang isn't the only threat we have to deal with, we need you and the arch type Wizard and the mage, will you help is? WW asked.

Scratching his head, Ray looked at his older brother and sister only for them to look back at him with a confused look and shrugged at him.

With a deep sigh he looked at the WW directly at his visor and said. "I will, I don't know about my brother or my sister, but for me, I will become Wizard and a Kamen Rider."

"Hey wait, I can't just let you go out and possibly die against whatever enemy that became a big threat, I'm joining in as Kamen Rider Mage." Lily declared.

"Oi, being the eldest, I got to keep an eye on both you, looks like I have to bear the title as Kamen Rider Beast." Diego sighed.

"Good, and here are a few new rings I have the ring maker create, the same rings I and the mage have." WW said with a smirk hidden under his mask.

Ray took the rings and looked at each of the designs on them and noticed some of them were unrecognizable.

"What are these 3?" Ray asked showing the WW the rings.

"The one with the plus signs over the dragon is the heal ring, it's able to heal your wounds. Next is the pull and push ring, think of it as the force from Star Wars." WW explained.

Ray had stars in his eyes after hearing the last part and grabbed the push ring and set it on his finger. He placed his hand with the push ring over the hand author giving it's usual chant.

PUSH-PLEASE?

Ray directed his hand towards Diego causing him to be pushed a few feet away and into a wall. Lily placed a hand over her mouth and looked at the now possibly destructive ring.

"I wonder?" Ray then switched out the push ring for the pull ring and hovered it over the hand author.

PULL-PLEASE?

Like the last time he directed his hand towards Diego but instead of being pulled towards Ray, his pants were pulled down showing his underwear.

"The many pranks I can do with this ring." Ray said with a mischievous smile.

Lily walked up to Ray and yanked the ring out of his finger causing him to yelp in pain and surprise.

"This is to be use for emergencies only, the push ring can only be used on people that piss you off." Lily ordered with a glare that can cut diamonds.

"Yes ma'am." Ray said with fear.

"Good, now I'll hold on to this." Lily pulled out the connect ring and placed it on her hand and then hovered said hand over the hand author.

CONNECT-NOW!

Lily tossed the ring into the magic circle and closed it causing Ray's face to falter. With a sigh he took a seat and looked directly at Ozpin.

"So, since I'm going to Beacon, am I going to be part of a team?" Ray asked.

"Yes, and no, you do not need to take the initiation since it will be pointless after seeing the 3 of you already took part of it and showed that you are capable hunters." Ozpin said.

"Alright, who's team will I be on?" Ray asked with a raised brow.

"Why don't you choose?" Ozpin interlock his fingers and placed his hand on them while waiting for a response from Ray.

Ray contemplated about this. On one hand he can join team RWBY like all the fanfics he has read or he can do something else like the other fanfic he has read minus the evildoer part, that he must avoid.

"Ugh, this is hard, yo White Wizard, any suggestions?" Ray asked while rubbing his temples.

"Why don't you join team RWBY, it seems like teams CRDL and JNPR don't need much help, but it looks like team RWBY needs some help in a form of a Kamen Rider." WW suggested.

"Indeed, I can make arrange this. Glynda, can you take mister Ray to team RWBY's dorm." Ozpin asked politely.

"Yes headmaster, but what about his brother and sister?" Glynda asked.

"I need to have a little chat with them involving their future job here in Beacon." Ozpin answered and took a sip from his mug.

With team RWBY.

Ruby looked at the new room she and her teammates now live. She and the others took a bed and laid on them.

"This is amazing, we pass the initiation with flying colors and now we are living here for 4 years. This is so exciting." Ruby said excited from all the things that happen over the day.

"This has been an exciting day. But what's bugging me is those 3 students I'm guessing that appeared in the forest." Yang said while looking up at the ceiling lost in thought.

"Yeah, I only caught a glimpse of the oldest one and he looked familiar, like I've seen him before." Weiss agreed.

"And the fact all 3 of them manage to summon armor out of rings." Blake pointed out.

"The youngest of them all looked familiar too me, I just can't put my finger on it." Yang said.

"You know who he reminds me of Yang, that boy that the both of you became really good friends." Ruby pointed out.

"You might be right Ruby, he does look like him. But if I remember correctly, he went missing with his brother and sister 3 years ago on the day of the half eclipses." Yang also pointed out.

"True. But, maybe it is him, we can't assume he's dead can we?" Ruby questioned.

"I guess we can't, when I get the chance I'll talk to him." Once Yang said that, they heard someone knocking on the door.

"I'll get it." Weiss got up from her bed and opened the door.

She was surprised to see Glynda Goodwitch standing right next to the teen that she saw at the forest not so long ago.

"Um, professor Goodwitch? Did something happen, did Yang break something already that we have yet to know?" Weiss asked.

"Hey!" Yang yelled from the background.

"No, you remember this man back at the forest, he is to be in your team for the 4 years." Glynda stated.

"Wait, him?" Weiss pointed at Ray who waved nervously from behind Glynda.

"Yes, he will be your new teammate, is there a problem with that?" Glynda asked sternly.

"N-no, n-none at all professor." Weiss said nervously.

"Jeez, and I thought Lily was scary." Ray chuckled.

Glynda gave a stern look at Ray who raised his hands in defeat and looked at Weiss.

"I'll leave him in your care." With that she left the 2.

"So, can I come in or do I have to wait here until you sort some things out?" Ray asked.

"Come in but if I catch you doing anything, I will nail you to the wall." Weiss threaten.

"Will I wear a thorn crown and change my name to Jesus?" Ray joked.

"Who? You know what, never mind, hurry up and get in." Weiss ordered.

Ray nodded and followed Weiss into the room and saw the 4 beds and 3 of them were occupied by 3 girls he recognized all too well.

"Um, hi, I'm Ray, we all met back at the forest." Ray greeted.

"_Nice first impression 10 points to being fucking stupid._" Ray scolded himself.

"Why are you scolding yourself, it just sounds ridiculous from my end." A voice said in Ray's head.

Ray jumped a bit causing team RWBY to look at him strangely, well minus Weiss who raised a brow.

"End, more like Diend, badum tsss." Ray chuckled at his own joke.

Yang raised a brow at the joke and then looked at Ruby who shrugged.

"Um, who are you talking to?" Yang asked.

"Oh shit, forgot you can't hear him, well, I do go by another name, I am also known as Kamen Rider Wizard." Ray again greeted while doing Haruto's pose.

"And how does that answer my question?" Yang...well questioned.

"Because as a Wizard, I have a thing called an inner Phantom, mine is Dragon, a stubborn lizard." Ray explained while smirking at the end.

"Oi, I can hear you." The voice now named Dragon said in Ray's mind.

"You were supposed to, you oversized lizard." Ray then felt pressure from his head and knew what was happening.

"Ow, ok,ok. Stubborn bastard." Ray muttered.

Weiss looked at him strangely and placed her hand on Ray's head. Ray looked at her with a raised brow until a lightbulb appeared over his head giving him the idea that Weiss was making sure he was feeling good.

"I know this sounds crazy but you got to take my word for it. I would show you but the White Wizard bastard has the rings I need to summon the Liz- I mean Dragon." Ray tried to explain but caused more confusion in the room.

"God dammit, looks like I have to explain everything don't I. I'll start from the beginning." Ray then started to explain as best as he can about the magic he and his siblings hold and the belts that can help cast spells, even going as far as explaining about the phantoms.

"And that ladies is how I save Christmas...I was joking. I meant to say, that's how I can use magic and how me and my bro and sis are the only ones besides the other Kamen Riders can beat phantoms." Ray said.

He looked directly at each of his new teammates face and notice 2 things. 1) they don't believe him, 2) they are still confused. Ray sighed and pulled out the connect ring and put it on.

CONNECT-PLEASE?

A magic circle appeared surpsing all of team RWBY. Ray put his hand into the magic circle and rummaged through it until he felt something metallic. He pulled out the WizarSwordGun and showed it to them.

"This is called the WizarSwordGun, shoots out magical silver bullets that only harms phantoms on the plus side, it's a blade too." Ray said while switching his weapon from gun mode to blade mode.

"Ooooh, can I hold it?" Ruby asked innocently.

"Knock yourself out." Ray said while tossing his weapon at Ruby.

Ruby caught it and started to look it over from each side and marveled at the design. Ray chuckled and looked at the others who looked at the weapon strangely.

"It shoots magical bullets?" Weiss questioned

"Yeah, I can change the direction of the bullets and whatever style armor I wear I can shoot out the type it is by setting the ring over the hand author on the WizarSwordGun, the same goes for the sword except it's a slash instead of bullets." Ray explained.

"I also have another weapon that's much more powerful than the WSG, it's called the Axecalibur, it's both a sword and an axe and it goes the infinite styled armor that I would have if the ring wasn't with me." Ray sighed at the end.

"You can't bring it out like you did with the gunblade?" Weiss asked.

"No, the Axecalibur is pretty much Dragon, the only way for me to bring it out is to have the infinite style ring with me and I tell Dragon to lend me his power." Ray shrugged.

"So, all in all, you can use the power of your pet to become powerful?" Weiss questioned.

"That bitch! I'm am not this assholes pet." Dragon yelled in Ray's mind.

"Yo Jackass, they can't hear you." Ray said.

"Talking to yourself again." Weiss looked at Ray who had a tick mark and looked at Weiss.

"And yet you don't believe still." Ray sighed and pulled out a ring and smirked.

"This ring can unleash Dragon but I've only seen him come out in people's underworld, I have no clue if he can come out in the real world." Ray shrugged and placed the ring back.

Ruby finished looking at the WSG and gave it back to Ray who looked at it and using the connect key again and placed it in there. Ray looked out the window and raised a brow.

"Damn, I didn't think our conversation would take up our time...I'll see if I have a sleeping bag." Ray again used the connect ring and rummaged through the magic circle and found the one object the needed.

He pulled out a camo colored rolled up sleeping bag. He unrolled it until a red centipede unrolled itself and crawled around the room. The girls shrieked in horror.

"Calm down it's harmless...well that's until it bites you but this one is harmlessâ€¦I think." Ray picked up the centipede.

"That is so unsanitary, what is a bug like that doing in your sleeping bag?" Weiss asked in disgust.

"Well, the last camping trip I went was 3 years ago with my brother and sister, I didn't realize that this little guy survived that long, I guess it ate the bugs around the bag or whatever bug comes near it." Ray shrugged and placed the centipede on the sleeping bag and saw it attack a fly.

"You should have eaten it, they might give good protein and could be tasty." Dragon suggested.

"Why would I eat a centipede, I'm not a weirdo...Ok, I am not a freak that will eat the damn thing." Ray then picked up the centipede and tossed it at Weiss who shrieked in terror.

"YOU DEGENERATE JERK!" Weiss yelled.

Ray laid back down on his sleeping bag and gave a thumbs up at Weiss who huffed and tossed the Centipede off her bed and calmly laid back into her bed.

"I have the feeling we'll get along new guy." Yang said with a smile.

Another thumbs up rose from where Ray was. With a slight chuckle Ruby turned the lights off and everyone went to sleep.

And here's another long ass chapter...How the hell can I do this, in my other stories they are moderate in pages or short...time will tell. Besides the long chapter, I may add another Kamen Rider I may not, depends on how I feel, or I can add the Kamen Rider war or the Super Sentai...so many ideas in this story...I don't know, it actually does depend.

While I think about those 3 ideas, the other chapters will be out by the time I have decided. This ends the A/N and have a nice day.
